

MEDIA, COMMUNICATION, PUBLICS

2013 CONFERENCE OF THE CMCL
CENTRE FOR MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS LAW
UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE
25-26 FEBRUARY 2013

CALL FOR PAPERS

Extended date: Abstracts due 15 October 2012

Plenary speakers:

Dr Mark Andrejevic, ARC QEII Research Fellow, Centre for Critical and Cultural Studies, University of Queensland, whose current research focuses on attitudes toward policies that give people greater control over the collection and use of their personal information. Publications include the book iSpy: Surveillance and Power in the Interactive Era (2007).

Professor Tanya Aplin, Law, Dickson Poon School of Law, King's College London, who researches extensively in areas of copyright, digital technologies and confidential information and is co-author of Gurry on Confidence: The Protection of Confidential Information (2012).

Dr Alana Maurushat, Cyberspace Law and Policy Centre, University of NSW., who researches in issues of cybercrime and cybersecurity, as well as copyright and digital communications, with publications including the articles 'Waltzing Matilda or Advance Australia Fair' and 'Zombie Botnets'.

Papers are now invited from researchers in law, media studies and related fields for this international conference.

Topics could include:

- Broadband futures
- Content creation, use and re-use
- Copyright law, technology and control
- Data and surveillance
- Defamation and public debate
- Digital publics
- Journalism and popular media
- Media access
- Media futures
- Media representations of law
- Networks and social networking
- Privacy and publicity
- Public knowledge
- Public media
- Reporting courts
- Technology and rights
- Trade marks and speech
- User-generated content

Please submit an abstract of up to 300 words including keywords and a biography of 100 words to law-cmcl@unimelb.edu.au.

Call for Papers closes on 15 October 2012.

To print a copy of the Call for Papers click here.

Contact: Clarissa Terry, Ph: +61 3 8344 9970, Email: law-cmcl@unimelb.edu.au

Visit www.law.unimelb.edu.au/cmcl for more information